Dear Parent/Carer

ODD SOCK DAY – Wednesday 17th November 2021

On Wednesday 17th November, we are holding our Odd Sock Day! This is usually held on the first day of Anti-Bullying Week, but we are holding it in the middle of the week this year.

All you need to do is wear odd socks! It is a great way to celebrate what makes us all unique in Anti-Bullying Week. The children do not need to bring in any money and they still need to wear their school uniform ... but with odd socks!

The aims of this week are to help children to understand that whether it is verbal, physical, online or in-person, bullying has a significant impact on a child's life. If we work together and make small changes, we can make a big difference and break this cycle to create safe environments for everyone.

We are concentrating this week on the theme 'ONE KIND WORD.'

Andy Day is one of the most popular children's TV presenters in the country. He has worked with young children for over 10 years and is a favourite amongst children and parents alike. He has a lot of experience working with children and understands the importance of being yourself and the struggles that can sometimes bring. Andy wanted to create a new way of promoting a positive and inclusive message to the young audience that watch him week in and week out on TV. So, he formed a band called Andy and the Odd Socks and the Odd Socks rock, and not just musically! They promote a message that it is good to be different and everyone is unique. Odd Socks Day is an opportunity to have fun, be yourself, and spread awareness of the core values Anti Bullying Week promotes.

Thank you for your continued support.

Yours sincerely
